

3 DAY WORKSHOP ON

RESEARCH IN ISLAMIC STUDIES

Organized by DEPARTMENT OF ISLAMIC STUDIES in Collaboration with EDC, NUML-Islamabad. [4-6 January 2022]

HIGHLIGHTS OF DAY:1

Editor of Al-Baseerah Journal Dr. Abdul Ghaffar Bukhari (Associated Professor) responded the scholars' questions. Second session of the workshop was on "Digital Applications in Islamic Studies". In this session Dr. Nasurullah (Lecturer| Research Focal Person) focused on techniques used on digital sources for data collection. Respected Dean FSSS, Prof. Dr. Mustafeez Ahmed Alvi, at the conclusion of the day interacted with the research scholars. He highlighted the importance of RAC and RAAS activities in timely completion of quality research.

"Research in Islamic Studies" workshop is one of the initiatives of Respected Dean, FSS Prof. Dr. Mustafeez Ahmed Alvi to enhance the research quality. The three day workshop, started with the recitation of Quran-e-Majeed. Respected Dr. Noor Hayat Khan (HoD) welcomed the large number of participants. He Also delivered the lecture on Data management.

HIGHLIGHTS OF DAY:2

Second day of the three day workshop, was focused the writing and publication process of a research article. Editor Al-Basirah Journal Dr. Syed Abdul Ghaffar Bukhari in his interaction highlighted basic components of a research article, for grabbing the attention, the Speaker brainstormed the scholars through out the session. Dr. Bukhari and Respected Dr. Noor Hayat Khan (HoD Islamic Studies) responded to questions.

Dr. Riaz Ahamed Saeed, best researcher of the year 2020 at NUML, shared his experience in publishing the research in HEC recognized journals. He discussed major issues in the publication process i.e. finding an appropriate journal which meets with the nature of the topic.

HIGHLIGHTS OF DAY:3

On Last day of the Workshop, Dr. Amjad Hayat (PG Co-ord) shared an overview of foreign experts indicating research problems and technical gaps in the thesis. Dr. Muhammad Riaz Mehmood (Associate Prof.) in his interaction expressed his views on a successful defense, its stages. He also shared valuable tips to develop the confidence during public defense.

Respected Prof. Dr. Mustafeez Ahmad Alvi (Dean FSS) chaired the last session. He Encouraged the scholars to start their research journey from the known to unknown through critical thinking. This journey ends on the creation of knowledge.

Respected Prof. Dr. Muhammad Zubair Iqbal (Pro-Rector Research) honored the workshop in the conclusion ceremony. He encouraged the scholars to produce quality research addressing the contemporary social, behavioral issues.

In the closing ceremony Respected Pro-rector, Dean and Hod distributed the certificates among the resource persons, the participants, and organizers of the three days workshop on Research in Islamic Studies.

Dr Nasurullah Qureshi [Focal Person for Research]

DEPARTMENT OF ISLAMIC STUDIES,

NATIONAL UNIVERSITY OF MODERN LANGUAGES- ISLAMABAD, islamic-studies@numl.edu.pk, coord-is@numl.edu.pk,

+92 051-9265100 (Ext. 2211)

